

Call to Artists for Artist Interventions

The Womxn Project Education Fund (TWPEF) works with artists to design and implement art interventions that promote social justice and equity. This call to artists is for temporary art installations that bring visibility, understanding, dialogue and engagement specifically to issues of reproductive justice. The online application for this call can be found here. If you are not submitting a proposal, but would like to help implement art intervention projects, please fill out this volunteer form.

Possible themes and intersectional lenses may include, but are not limited to:

Believe Womxn	Access to Health Insurance
Bodily Autonomy	Reproductive Health
Healthcare as a Human Right	Reproductive Rights
Abortion as Healthcare	Sex Education
What Happens if Roe Falls	Wellness and Pleasure
Pregnancy as Choice	Gender and Sexuality
Systematic Racism and Health	Economic Disparities in Healthcare

Possible approaches to art interventions include:

- Temporary or semi-permanent murals applied to jersey barriers, sidewalks, bike lanes and other high-traffic public spaces
- Installations on kiosks, in display cases, in storefront windows..
- Vinyl adhesive applied to moveable panels displayed in public spaces
- Digital or painted imagery on vinyl banners
- Digital imagery and video for light projections
- Demonstrations, workshops, classes and tours
- Participatory art making and creative activities in public spaces
- Spoken word, music, or performance online and in public spaces
- Examples of past art interventions by TWPEF can be seen here

TWPEF will:

- Provide general liability insurance coverage
- Provide site coordination and permitting as needed
- Collaborate with artists on fabrication and implementation
- Promote projects through press releases, social media posts, community outreach
- Document projects through video and photography
- Source equipment such as digital projectors and sound systems
- Cover materials costs (to be agreed upon by TWPEF and Artist)

- Pay selected artist a stipend (to be agreed upon by TWPEF and Artist; delivered upon completion of project and submission of artist invoice.)

Artist Responsibilities:

- Artists must be willing to edit and adjust the final artistic outcome as needed, according to TWPEF specifications, and to fit specific locations
- Artists who are selected must sign a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) that outlines the terms of their partnership with TWPEF
- Artists are responsible for meeting their obligations for the creation, production, installation or performance of their artwork, as agreed upon with TWPEF and outlined in MOU.
- Selected artists and TWPEF will be jointly credited for the final art intervention in press coverage and community outreach. The Artist retains creative credit, sole ownership, and copyright for their contract-based work, but are required to extend to TWPEF the right to a royalty-free, perpetual license to use the artwork/any depiction of the artwork for non-commercial purposes. Completed projects will be added to the TWPEF website here.

How to Apply:

Applicants must submit a written description of their art intervention proposal through our online application form, which can be found here.

All proposals are reviewed by the Womxn Project Education Fund. Criteria considered include, but are not limited to: artistic merit, clarity of message, alignment with TWPEF's priorities, artwork durability, public and site safety, project scope and budget, artist and organizational capacity. Consideration may also be made for an artist's location in relation to the proposed work, because TWPEF does not offer additional funds for travel or accommodation (i.e. digital designs can easily be shared online, but proposals for performance or painted murals may require that an artist live in or near Rhode Island).

Applications will be accepted on a rolling basis. The duration of this call and the number of projects funded are contingent upon availability of funds and organizational capacity. Accepted projects will be funded and implemented at the discretion of TWPEF. Project stipends may range from $250 - $5000.

TWPEF, at its sole discretion, reserves the right to: withdraw this RFP at any time; discuss various approaches to this proposal with the applying artist or with other individuals or organizations; amend the terms of this RFP.

About the Womxn Project Education Fund:

The Womxn Project Education Fund is a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization that uses the arts to build a more just and equitable Rhode Island. The arts are a powerful tool for individual expression, cultural exchange, and mutual understanding, which we believe are essential for a healthy and democratic society. TWPEF combines the creativity and emotional impact of the arts with the strategies of activism to encourage civic engagement, advance social justice, and promote political progress. <https://twpeducationfund.org/>
